H.E. Smt. Pratibha Devisingh Patil

President of India &

Visitor of IGNOU

Silver Jubilee Inaugural Address on 19th November, 2009 at IGNOU Campus

Ladies and Gentlemen,

I am pleased to inaugurate the Silver Jubilee Celebrations of the Indira Gandhi National Open University established in the memory of Late Prime Minister, Smt. Indira Gandhi.

On her birth anniversary today, it is her deep commitment to the development of the country and to the upliftment of those living in poverty that one recalls as her distinguishing hallmark. She viewed education as a liberating force, which while enabling individuals to earn a living would also make them capable citizens and therefore, wanted that education should reach all people in the country. She had faith in the power of technology to contribute to this. She said, and I quote, "Communication technology frees the entire concept of education from its previous limit of time and space ... we can reach out to the remotest places and to the best minds that exist. We do not have all of it yet in India, but I sincerely hope that we will have it soon and that this will help our education to be more broad-based and deeper". India has now emerged as a leader in IT and we must use its potential to the fullest, to spread education and knowledge. Indeed, the mission of IGNOU, founded in 1985, is to make knowledge and skills available to anybody, anywhere, anytime. I wish everyone associated with IGNOU every success in this noble endeavour.

IGNOU has grown in the 25 years of its existence. It has over 15 per cent of all learners enrolled in higher education in the country and offers a wide range of programmes and courses through its vast network of learning centres across the country. Its Regional Centres can play a very important role in reducing disparities in education by extending education opportunities in villages and remote areas. While expanding its coverage and as part of its continuing effort to improve its teaching platform, I am told, that IGNOU has started a "convergence scheme" bringing together the strengths of face-to-face conventional education and the flexibility of open and distance learning. It is institutions that seek to excel that constantly work to upgrade their facilities and incorporate good practices.

The importance of education cannot be over emphasized. It is a very powerful tool for empowering people and for giving them self-dignity. It becomes even more important for a nation like ours that is in the process of harnessing its human resources for rapid economic growth. Today, we need more children in school and more of them to go on to higher education. Proper training, provisioning of skills sets and capacity building of its population are tools which shall make our human resources competent and confident to face the new set of challenges of a fast changing world.

Nations with high quality human resources would be counted amongst the front ranking nations of the world in the knowledge era. Aristotle, the ancient Greek philosopher, once remarked that the fate of nations depends on the education of its youth. Therefore, reaching education to young girls and boys must occupy a foremost position on our agenda, if we are to be firmly positioned as one of the leading nations of the world. That is why Government has made education a priority sector. Free education to children between the ages 6 and 14 years is - now a fundamental right. The Rashtriya Madhyamik Shiksha Abhiyan seeks to achieve universal secondary education by the year 2017. The Gross Enrollment Ratio or GER in India in higher education is very low as compared to the world average. Strenuous efforts are required to reach our goal of enhancing GER in India to 20 per cent by 2020. A massive expansion in higher education through new institutions is also underway, alongwith efforts to improve educational standards, including through undertaking structural reforms in the higher education system and using all available methods to spread education. The National Mission on Education through Information Communication Technology launched in February this year will create internet connectivity to about 20,000 colleges and educational institutions. This initiative will, I am confident bring in the use of modern technology in higher education in a more widespread manner.

While broadbasing access to education is important, one must not lose sight of the utmost importance which should be paid to the quality of education being given to students and the need for equity. This should start from the primary level itself. Government has been, therefore, emphasizing and is committed to providing good quality education to all students, especially those from the underprivileged sections. The spread of education amongst women is also very important. By spreading education amongst them, not only is an individual educated, but rather the seeds of progress of the next generation are planted.

The Open University System being flexible and innovative can be useful for a wide section of society and should help in improving skills sets. Enhancing the skill sets of the workforce in the country is a challenge. Only 5 per cent of the workforce in India has some kind of certification. This is in contrast to over 85 per cent in the developed countries. Encouragement of work-integrated learning followed by examination, certification and accreditation through distance education will be of help. However, to make it effective there would be a need for active two way collaboration with industry and other players. I believe that Open Universities should also generate a movement in the rural areas that will impel people to acquire knowledge and skills for self-empowerment. In this context, educational programmes like the Gyan Darshan Channel of IGNOU, which is reaching over 8 million homes, can be useful in motivating people.

Distance education offers an opportunity to those already in employment to upgrade their knowledge base, so that they can more effectively contribute to the productivity of work in their organizations. Studying, while in employment, also offers opportunities for enhancement of career opportunities. I am, therefore, happy that IGNOU and the Indian Army have decided to work together to create a process of certification of higher education of soldiers. Till now the skills that the Army personnel acquired while in service were not reflected through any formal degrees awarded to them. I am happy that through this new collaboration, they will get appropriate certification. This can be helpful in their work and to start a new professional life at the end of their careers in the Army. I therefore, welcome this new initiative and am pleased to dedicate Gyan Deep to the nation. Similarly, the Flexi Learn Platform which has also been launched today is significant as it provides an opportunity for prospective learners to sample a course before enrolling and thereby, help them in choosing appropriate courses and programmes.

I am happy that IGNOU is taking up new initiatives during its Silver Jubilee Year. From this year onwards, the Rajiv Gandhi International Prize for Technology in Education and Development has been instituted by the University. The Prize would be given to an individual or an institution that has made significant contributions to educational technology, for development in the developing world.

I congratulate the officials and the staff of IGNOU who have contributed over the last quarter century to the growth of the University. I hope that as the Silver Jubilee is celebrated, new initiatives will be thought of in the time ahead, so that more and more of our population will be covered by distance education. This will be the mission for which I am sure IGNOU shall work for in all earnestness.

I would also like to convey my good wishes to Shri Kapil Sibal, Union Minister for Human Resource Development and Smt. Purandeshwari, Union Minister of State for HRD for success in their work in the education sector.

Thanking you,

Jai Hind

Pratibha Devisingh Patil

Message from the Vice-Chancellor

Dear learners,

I welcome you to 'Indira Gandhi National Open University', the world's largest university disseminating open and distance learning. This Central University established by an Act of Parliament in 1985 is committed itself to serve the needs of variety of learners. With great pleasure, I present you the Common Prospectus 2011 of IGNOU offering admission for various certificate, diploma, degree, post-graduate and doctoral research programmes.

From a modest beginning of two academic programmes, IGNOU now offers around 520 programmes with significant features of openness, flexibility, and learner-centric quality education for skill up-graduate, training, competence enhancement and qualification. In the last 25 years IGNOU had been able to establish greater access to a large number of people, rural and urban across barriers of gender, caste, class and creed. As a pioneer in Open and Distance Learning (ODL), IGNOU has been at the forefront of taking education to the doorsteps of learners over the years particularly to the remotely located disadvantaged sections of society. We at IGNOU are dedicated to provide more opportunities for advanced learning for those who aspire for studies since upgrading the quality of workforce in the society requires access to higher education and capacity building.

The dedicated faculty of IGNOU is engaged in identifying educational needs of the society and to bring unique academic programmes in the fields of para-medics, law, agriculture, social sciences, performing arts, IT, engineering, humanities, languages, mass media, women and gender studies, etc. The faculty with a large number of adjunct teachers dedicate themselves in effective learning support and personalized academic support. IGNOU has a large professional strength of academics and administrative personnel located in the regional centres to provide just-in-time administrative support, be it pre-admission counseling support or post-programme placements.

In the previous Silver Jubilee year, we have taken a much desired step of going into the multiple mode of education delivery. Alongside Open and Distance Learning, on-line approach, we have started on-campus face to face teaching in emerging areas, not only at IGNOU Headquarters but at other campuses also which have added more versatility and life towards growth of the university. Classroom interaction will bring into focus problems that students might be facing. Community College Scheme, Convergence Scheme, Associate Studentship Scheme, Flexilearn Scheme have further brought education and knowledge in the reach of more learners. A unique Course-wise Registration Scheme is also under launch through a separate prospectus where any knowledge seeker can take any number of courses from IGNOU programmes without the restrictions of age, qualification, pre-knowledge and knowledge and education in the subject.

Programmes have been conceived and run for the armed forces, such as Gyan Deep for the Army and Akashdeep for the Air Force. A similar tie-up is at the anvil for personnel of the Indian Navy. Gyan Darshan, a 24 hour educational TV Channel and Gyan Vani, a large cooperative network of FM radio stations are exclusively devoted to education. Efforts are now on for two-way teleconferencing, interactive radio counseling and for relaying educational programmes through local FM radio stations.

IGNOU has witnessed all-round growth in terms of student enrolment, increase in the number of schools and centres, study centres, regional centres, faculty and number of programme it offers. The facilities to students in particular have considerably been stepped up. Seven Regional Evaluation Centres have been opened in different zones of the country for timely declaration of results and evaluation of assignments. This expansion is not just within the country but also across the globe where also the strength of learners is continually on the rise. Not only this, IGNOU has the largest number of government-supported schemes in social and rural development sectors.

The university recognizes the importance of sustainable and affordable high quality learning modules, courses and programmes across disciplines and at diverse levels to meet the national mission—Education for all.

Come and join the University of Opportunities.

With best wishes,

(V.N. Rajasekharan Pillai)

Vice-Chancellor

1.5 Academic Programmes

The University offers both short-term and long-term programmes leading to Certificates, Diplomas, Advance Diploma, Associates Degree and Degrees, which are conventional as well as innovative. Most of these programmes have been developed after an initial survey of the demand for such Programmes. They are launched with a view to fulfil the learner's needs for:

- certification,
- improvement of skills,
- acquisition of professional qualifications,
- continuing education and professional development at work place,
- self-enrichment,
- diversification and updation of knowledge, and
- empowerment.

1.6 Course Preparation

Learning material is specially prepared by teams of experts drawn from different Universities and specialised Institutions in the area spread throughout the country as well as in-house faculty. The material are scrutinised by the content experts, supervised by the instructors/unit designers and edited by the language experts at IGNOU before these are finally sent for printing. Similarly, audio and video cassettes are produced in consultation with the course writers, in-house faculty and producers. The material is previewed and reviewed by the faculty as well as outside experts and edited/modified, wherever necessary, before they are finally despatched to the students, Study Centres and Telecast through Gyan Darshan.

1.7 Credit System

The University follows the 'Credit System' for most of its programmes. Each credit in our system is equivalent to 30 hours of student study comprising all learning activities (i.e. reading and comprehending the print material, listening to audio, watching video, attending counselling sessions, teleconference and writing assignment responses). Thus, a 4-credit course involves 120 hours of study. This helps the learner to know the academic effort he/she has to put in, to successfully complete a course. Completion of an academic programme (Degree or Diploma) requires successful completion of the assignments, practicals projects and the term-end examination of each course in a programme.

1.8 Support Services

In order to provide individualised support to its learners, the University has a large number of Study Centres, spread throughout the country. These Study Centres are co-ordinated by 60 Regional Centres and Recognised Regional Centres. At the Study Centres, the learners interact with the Academic Counsellors and other learners, refer to books in the Library, watch/listen to video/audio programmes and interact with the Coordinator on administrative and academic matters. The list of Regional and Study Centres is given in this handbook. Support services are also provided through Work Centres, Programme Study Centres, Skill Development Centres and Special Study Centres.

1.9 Programme Delivery

The methodology of instruction in this University is different from that of the conventional Universities. The open university system is more learner-oriented and the learner is an active participant in the pedagogical (teaching and learning) process. Most of the instructions are imparted through distance education methodology and face-to-face mode as per the requirement.

The University follows a multimedia approach for instruction, which comprises:

- a) Self Instructional Written Material: The printed study material (written in self-instructional style) for both theory and practical components of the programmes is supplied to the learners in batches of blocks for every course (on an average 1 block per credit). A block which comes in the form of a booklet usually comprises 3 to 5 units.
- b) Audio-Visual Material Aids: The learning package contains audio and video CDs which have been produced by the University for better clarification and enhancement of understanding of the course material given to the learners. A video programme is normally of 25-30 minutes duration. The video cassettes are screened at the study centres during specific sessions which are duly notified for the benefit of the learners.
The video programmes are telecast on National Network of Doordarshan and Gyan Darshan. All Gyan Vani stations are broadcasting curriculum based audio programmes. In addition, some selected stations of All India Radio are also broadcasting the audio programmes. Learners can confirm the dates for the programmes from their study centres. The information is also provided through the university website.
- c) Counselling Sessions: Normally counselling sessions are held as per schedule drawn by the Study Centres. These are mostly held outside the regular working hours of the host institutions where the study centres are located.
- d) Teleconferences: Live teleconferencing sessions are conducted via satellite through interactive Gyan Darshan Channel as well as simulcasted on 'Edusat' channel from the University studios at EMPC, the schedule of which is made available at the study centres.
- e) Practicals/Project Work: Some Programmes have practical/project component also. Practicals are held at designated institutions for which schedule is provided by the Study Centres. Attendance at practicals is compulsory. For project work, comprehensive project guide, in the form of a booklet, is provided to the student alongwith the study materials.

1.10 Evaluation System

The system of evaluation in IGNOU is also different from that of conventional universities. IGNOU has a multi-tire system of evaluation.

1. Self-assessment exercises within each unit of study.
2. Continuous evaluation mainly through assignments which are tutor-marked, practical assignments and seminar/workshops/extended contact programmes.
3. The term-end examinations.
4. Project works

The evaluation of learners depends upon various instructional activities undertaken by them. A learner has to write assignment responses compulsorily before taking term-end examination from time to time to complete an academic programme. A learner has to submit TMA responses to the Coordinator of the Study Centre concerned to which s/he is attached. A learner should keep duplicate copies of assignment responses of TMA that may be required to be produced at Student Evaluation Division on demand. Term-end examination is conducted at various examination centers spread all over the country and abroad in June and December.

IGNOU uses the following system of “Grading” for evaluating learners’s achievement

Letter Grade	Qualitative Level	Point Grade
A	Excellent	5
B	Very Good	4
C	Good	3
E	Unsatisfactory	1

For Bachelors' and Masters' degree programmes, normally the system of numerical marking is followed, and the marks secured in assignments, TEEs, etc. are later converted into grades as per the five-point grading scale given above. However, if required by the learner, the university provides numerical marks and division (I, II or Pass).

Term-end Examination and Payment of Examination Fee

The University conducts Term-end Examination twice a year in the months of June & December. Students will be permitted to appear in term-end examination subject to the conditions that 1) registration for the courses, in which they wish to appear is valid, 2) minimum time to pursue these courses is elapsed, and 3) they have also submitted the required number of assignment(s), if any, in those courses by the due date.

Students can also submit on-line examination form as per guidelines through IGNOU website at www.ignou.ac.in.

Examination fee @ Rs. 60/- per course is required to be paid either through online payment gateway, cash deposit on designated banks and also through demand drafts.

1.11 Associate Studentship

The University has a scheme of ‘Associate Studentship’ which provides for a candidate who fulfils the minimum eligibility requirements for the programme under which the course(s) is/are offered, to register for only one course or a limited number of courses, subject to a minimum of 8 credits and maximum of 32 credits. An Associate Student is attached to a Study Centre for counselling, assignment evaluation library facility, etc. The application form provided at the end of the Prospectus (please see Page No. 253) can be used for registration. A fee of Rs. 600/- per 8 credit course, or part thereof plus Rs.100/- as registration fee is charged for admission to course(s) under BA, B.Com, B.Sc., BSW and BTS programmes. For the rest of the programmes the fee will be charged on pro-rata basis, i.e. by dividing the programme fee by the number of courses in the programme, plus Rs.100/- as registration fee.

The minimum and maximum period allowed to Associate students for completion of their course(s) would be six months and two years, respectively. There will be no separate counselling or lab work schedule for the associate students. They will have to be in touch with the Study Center concerned in order to know the schedule and participate in the sessions accordingly. Minimum period of six months would be allowed, if the courses opted by the students are up to 16 credits. If the option exceeds 16 credits, the minimum period would be one year.

Associate students would be permitted to seek admission in any of the admission cycles and to opt the courses that are on offer either in January or July cycle. However, no counselling and/or lab/practicals would be conducted separately for the Associate Students. In such a case the students would be allowed to avail the counselling/practical session in the next semester and accordingly the minimum duration would be extended to another six months. However, the maximum duration of two years would remain unchanged.

If an Associate student opts for more than 16 credits worth of courses in either of the admission cycles, he/she is not entitled to seek admission in the next cycle unless the prescribed minimum duration is completed, except in the courses of Certificate Programmes.

Associate Students are not eligible to seek admission to the courses under the Programmes where the number of seats are limited and/or the admission is done through Entrance Test.

Change of course is not permitted under the Associate Studentship scheme

Similarly re-admission facility is not extended to associate students. Separate Enrolment Number i.e. 'AS ' would be allotted to such students. The filled-in forms of 'Associate Studentship' are to be sent to the Regional Director concerned. Forms received by any other Office than the Regional Centre concerned would be summarily rejected.

1.12 On-Demand Examination

The University has a scheme of 'Associate Studentship'

The Facility of On-Demand Exams ~

IGNOU provides facility of On-Demand examination to its bonafide and eligible students to appear for examination in several courses as per their convenience and preparation without waiting for six monthly term-end examination. 2.12 MA in Participatory

Development (MAPD)

To facilitate inclusive and sustainable development Participatory development as an approach is integral to current national and international development practice and debate.

Those working in the development field need to take into consideration new realities of constitutional bodies like panchayats and municipalities, as well as promote participation of marginalised sections like tribals, dalits and women in development programmes and projects. They need to be aware of issues of democratic governance, which have contributed to the empowerment of the poor and marginalised women's political empowerment and recent governmental interventions like the National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (NREGS) and Right to Information (RTI)

In addition the development agenda has generated a growing demand for trained workers to manage field-based development interventions. Many government agencies, national/international NGOs, donors as well as corporates are recruiting development workers and professionals to undertake challenging field responsibilities to ensure they are implemented in a manner that supports participation and ownership by local communities. Issues related to management of development organisations are also at the forefront of what is required of development sector professionals.

Responding to these trends to build quality human resources in the development sector, IGNOU and PRIA have entered into a unique collaboration to design and deliver MA participatory Development.

- The main objective of the programme are:
- To enable critical analyses of development models, policies, processes and its implementation.
- To strengthen understanding of the concept and practice of participatory development.
- To develop knowledge and skills for managing development projects and programmes in a Participatory manner.
- To provide opportunities to experience the process of participation in development and governance interventions.
- To strengthen understanding of key elements of managing development organisations.

2.19 Master of Science in Counselling and Family Therapy (MSCCFT)

(Offered in July Session only)

The M.Sc. programme in the area of Counselling and Family Therapy is aimed at developing professionals in this vital field, which is gaining greater salience in the present times both from social and employment perspectives. The contemporary social scenario has resulted in an increased need and demand for professional support in terms of counselling and family therapy, which is being increasingly recognized as an effective approach both for promoting positives like strengthening family ties, fostering positive parenting, and increasing resilience of individuals in vulnerable situations as well as for addressing negative aspects such as socio-psychological problems, maladaptive behaviours, declining mental health, and psychosomatic disorders that are being increasingly witnessed in the present times. However, though the need for counselling and family therapy professionals is being increasingly felt, there is a dearth of professional support and experts who could lend a helping hand in promoting positive family processes and help individual family members in distress in a comprehensive way. As a result, there is a tremendous felt need for education and training in this area. By developing the requisite knowledge, understanding, attitudes and skills in the area of Counselling and Family Therapy, this unique programme of study would help to train professional cadres in the field, equipping them for both wage-employment and self-employment, and thus fill the existing lacuna.

A remarkable feature of this programme of study is its focus on the applied aspect and the thrust on opportunities for hands-on experience for the learner. In fact, almost half the credits of this Master's Degree Programme are earmarked for application-oriented learning opportunities. In the second year of the programme, the learner has the option to be trained in Marital and Family Therapy; Child and Adolescent Counselling and Therapy; or Substance Abuse Counselling and Therapy. Yet another special feature of the programme is that it has a provision of exit point for learners (after one year) in the form of P.G. Diploma in Counselling and Family Therapy (P G D C F T) .

The programme has theory, supervised practicum, internship, and dissertation as components. The courses that comprise the Master's programme, along with the credit weightage, are as follows:

2.22 Master of Arts in Gender and Development Studies (MAGD)

The programme is likely to be of interest to academics and researchers; trainers, facilitators, supervisors; staff of organizations working in the area of gender and development; government personnel; personnel working in banks financial institutions.

Development policies and practices have a differential impact on women and men. This necessitates an understanding of the “gender gap” in access to resources, privileges, entitlements and choices. Consensus has evolved around the need to explore the “gender gap” in key development sectors and how this gap can be bridged. There is now greater emphasis on main-streaming gender perspectives into the development process. This will contribute to building a gender-sensitive rubric of development, recasting development theory and action in the “direction of improved living standards, socially responsible management and use of resources, elimination of gender subordination and socioeconomic inequality as well as to promote the organizational restructuring required to bring about desirable change.”

Exploration of gender issues has become an important activity for most non-governmental organizations. Increasing emphasis is being laid in Governmental agencies on establishing gender-differential impacts and taking positive, affirmative action towards gender equality and equity. It is now widely acknowledged that gender considerations need to be reflected in all development plans, programmes and policies. There is growing concern over the isolation of women in so-called “soft” sectors in education, employment and development rather than mainstreaming gender concerns across all organizations, institutions and activities. While the concerns are clearly articulated, national goals and the UN millennium development goals cannot be achieved without concrete effort towards gender equality.

Achieving gender equality and gender equity requires multi-pronged approaches and strategies. One of the key approaches and strategies revolves around design and development of suitable educational programmes that equip practitioners and policy makers with the requisite knowledge and skills to make a valuable contribution in this sphere. The Master’s/ Postgraduate Diploma programmes would make an excellent foundation for analyzing, critically assessing existing development interventions and promoting gender-sensitive/gender-based research and action. The strong focus envisaged on positive affirmative action would be of considerable significance.

Programme Objectives

The programmes seek to enable learners to:

- analyze extent of gender-sensitivity of development interventions;
- conduct gender analysis;
- critically analyze gender differentials in selected development sectors;
- identify appropriate research designs and methodologies for a range of research problems;
- suggest positive affirmative action in development planning and practice to promote gender equity and equality

Broad Programme Structure

The broad structure for the Master’s Degree/ PG Diploma in Gender and Development Studies uses a modular approach.

The 1st Year courses if successfully completed would earn the learner a Postgraduate Diploma in Gender and Development Studies. If the learner continues with the 2nd Year courses and successfully completes them, the learner would earn a Master’s degree in Gender and Development Studies. 5.59 Post Graduate Certificate in Participatory Development (PGCEPD)

To facilitate inclusive and sustainable development. participatory development as an approach is integral to current national and international development practice and debate.

Those working in the development field need to take into consideration new realities of constitutional bodies like panchayats and municipalities, as well as promote participation of marginalised sections like tribals, dalits and women in development programmes and projects. They need to be aware of issues of democratic governance which have contributed to the empowerment of the poor and marginalised, women's political empowerment and recent governmental interventions like the National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme (NREGS) and Right to Information (RTI).

In addition, the development agenda has generated a growing demand for trained workers to manage field-based development interventions. Many government agencies, national/international NGOs, donors as well as corporates are recruiting development workers and professionals to undertake challenging field responsibilities to ensure they are implemented in a manner that supports participation and ownership by local communities. Issues related to management of development organisations are also at the forefront of what is required of development sector professionals.

Responding to these trends to build quality human resources in the development sector, IGNOU and PRIA have entered into a unique collaboration to design and deliver PG certificate in Participatory Development.

The main objectives of the programme are:

- To enable critical analyses of development models, policies, processes and its implementation.
- To strengthen understanding of the concept and practice of participatory development.
- To develop knowledge and skills for managing development projects and programmes in a participatory manner.
- To provide opportunities to experience the process of participation in development and governance interventions.
- To strengthen understanding of key elements of managing development organisations.

5.69 Appreciation Course on Environment (ACE)

Environment is everybody's business. It has been observed that many individuals, who have the benefit of education and are actively engaged in their professions, often have strong desire to educate themselves on environmental matters. They also want to play a significant role in environmental management of their neighbourhood. Sometimes, due to misinformation or availability of excessive information on a subject, these individuals despite their enlightened background, are not in a position to appreciate significant environmental issues. They are also sometimes misled by adverse propaganda. Owing to these reasons, the Appreciation Course on Environment has been developed by the University in collaboration with the Ministry of Environment and Forests, Govt. of India, as a non-credit awareness course. The objectives of this course are to:

- I disseminate information on national and international environmental issues;
- I create environmental consciousness among professionals, academicians and other members of society who can play an active part in opinion making within the society so that corrective environmental action could be encouraged; and
- I facilitate development of environmental leadership among individuals who may organize/participate in environment upgradation programmes.

3.	Improving the Environment

This course can be completed in two modes :

Mode 1 Awareness Mode - This mode gives one the flexibility to study the print materials as per ones convenience and pace. There is no formal assessment for this mode.

Mode 2 Certification Mode - For this mode, besides pursuing the study of print materials, one has to successfully complete a Project Work for earning the Certificate of Participation.

5.70 Post Graduate Professional Certificate in Special Education (PGPCSE)

National Centre for Disability Studies was established to undertake plethora of academic, research, extension and awareness activities for empowering the persons with disabilities and create a society that is friendly for them. The Post Graduate Professional Certificate in Special Education (PGPCSE) Programmes are being offered by the National Centre for Disability Studies (NCDS), IGNOU in collaboration with Rehabilitation Council of India (RCI). MoU has been signed between IGNOU and RCI in September, 2007. NCDS has received the approval of Academic Council, IGNOU to start the programmes related to Disability Studies.

As inclusion in general education schools of all levels has led to more children with disabilities/special needs students in General School Classrooms, the need for teachers to keep up to speed on how to best teach their increasingly-diverse students has grown. It is required that the already trained special educators gain knowledge in different disability areas so as to become a cross-disability special educator through the Post Graduate Professional Certificate in Special Education. The programme aims to make the learners understand the nature and implications of various disabilities in inclusive classroom. This also provides a comprehensive idea about the diverse learning needs and intervention strategies of all children in inclusive setup. Therefore, the programmes are designed to develop more competencies in handling the children with various disabilities. The programmes involve both theory and practical courses. The PGPCSE programmes are available in following disability areas:

1. Post Graduate Professional Certificate in Special Education in Mental Retardation (PGPCSEMR)
2. Post Graduate Professional Certificate in Special Education in Hearing Impairment (PGPCSEHI)

Credit: Each programme consists of 28 credits.

Intake: Each Special Study Centre has 40 seats only.

Selection Procedure: Regional Centre wise! Special Study Centre wise Selection is done on the basis of merit as per % of B. Ed. Special Education or equivalent.

RCI Certification: Successful candidates will obtain add-on qualification / specialization in RCI certificate.

Contact Programme: There will be one contact programme during the academic session and 75% of the total attendance is a pre-requisite for Term end examination.

Term End Examination: The first TEE will be held in December for learners enrolled in July session.

Learners can appear in subsequent TEE held twice a year in June and December.
